Boil advisory lifted for St. George

(KMZA)---A boil water advisory has been rescinded for the Pottawatomie County community of St. George.

The advisory was issued November 30th for portions of the city due to the loss of water pressure. Failure to maintain adequate pressure may result in a loss of chlorine residuals and bacterial contamination.

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment says laboratory testing samples collected from St. George indicate no evidence of contamination and all other conditions that placed the system at risk of contamination are deemed by KDHE officials to be resolved.
