Gov. Kelly orders flags at half-staff to honor COVID deaths
(MSC News)--Kansas Gov. Laura Kelly has ordered flags to be flown at half-staff after the state passes 1,000 COVID-19 deaths.

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment reported 1,007 total deaths from the coronavirus pandemic on Wednesday, which was an increase of 31 from Monday.

The flag directive starts immediately and runs through sundown Friday, October 30th.
