

Man enters plea in two Atchison home invasions

(KAIR)--A Pennsylvania man charged in connection with two home invasions at the same Atchison residence earlier this year has entered into a plea agreement.

30-year-old Cameron Jensen pleaded guilty Tuesday in Atchison County District Court to charges of aggravated battery, aggravated burglary and criminal restraint.

Sentencing was set for January 11.

Jensen was arrested in September in Erie, Pennsylvania by U.S. Marshals on a District Court warrant following an investigation by the Atchison Police Department.

He was charged in connection with crimes that occurred at a residence in the 300 block of Parallel on July 23 and August 6 involving the same 45-year-old victim, identified in court proceedings Tuesday as local radio broadcaster Brian Hagen.

During the August 6 incident, Hagen sustained injuries after being struck with an object that was Jensen's hand. He was treated at an area hospital and released.

Jensen remains held in the Atchison County Jail after his bond was reduced from $75,000 to $20,000.

Many Signals Communications