

Auburn School Board approves new hires

(KLZA)-- The Auburn Board of Education approved three new hires when they met Monday evening.

Sara Toedman will serve as a Secondary School counselor and Hannah Lempka and Courtney Brethouwer were both hired to teach elementary classes.

The Board did accept the resignation of First Grade teacher, Tashia Krecklow.

A new series of science books were approved during the meeting and the 2021-22 student fee schedule was approved, Superintendent David Patton said no changes were required for the next year, mainly due to the government program that is helping to feed students so no changes to meal prices are required.

Board members approved a number of policy updates and adopted several policies exclusively for District 29.
